The Rockmart Theatre

116 East Elm St., Rockmart

The Rockmart Theatre opened as a movie theater in the early 1930's. The City of Rockmart bought the building in the 1970's and remodeled the space as a city auditorium. In the 1990's another renovation was begun by the newly formed Rockmart Civic Art Commission. With the support of the city and several grants, a 454 seat theatre equipped with a professional sound and lighting system became a reality. In 2013, the Rockmart Civic Art Commission became a Department of the City of Rockmart, which is now called the Rockmart Cultural Arts Center.

The Rockmart Theatre is utilized year-round by the Rockmart Community Chorus, Community Theatre, Middle and High School Theatre Departments, local singers and songwriters, Summer Camps, and other groups for various benefits and performances.

Rockmart Cultural Arts Center

RCAC promotes the visual, performing, and literary arts in our community. We offer free special events, demonstrations, lectures, receptions, and tours in the gallery.

RCAC is a place where the community can meet in the appreciation, participation, presentation and performance of the various arts.

The Rockmart Cultural Arts Center building is located behind the Government Center and Library. The Arts Center has 3 floors which include the Art Gallery, Gift Shop, Pottery Studio, Chorus room, 3 large classrooms and 4 working Art Studios.

The Rockmart Theatre is also part of the RCAC and is located in the historic theatre in downtown Rockmart. Classes are held at both locations with performances throughout the year at the theatre.
